

Research Interest Group (RIG)

Specifically the RIG intends to deliver the following objectives to:

- Share knowledge of existing research activity
- Provide advice to colleagues regarding research activity
- Identify joint research priorities
- Develop new research partnerships across clinical and academic communities
- Develop fundable research proposals based on those priorities and partnerships
- Identify and discuss:
  - innovative and creative research design approaches
  - shared knowledge on current funding options
  - strategies to ensure appropriate user involvement in research.
- Facilitate the LCNUK to integrate their research and evaluation work into the wider cancer and healthcare community.
